Sea and sky: the blue moves us

Sitges is colourful, yes. But it's mostly blue and green. The Mediterranean and the Parc del Garraf (Garraf Natural Park) define this duality, and the surroundings invite you to get active and enjoy outdoor sports all year round. Sea, beaches and walking trails come together in a distinctive setting where you can practise water sports, explore the coastline or discover nature. And for lovers of the sea, Sitges also offers three marinas providing nautical services, excellent gastronomy and something that defines us perfectly: a vibrant atmosphere.

Water is in our DNA

📅 From April to October — 📍 Various locations

Life in Sitges revolves around the sea. We enjoy it from the shore and from the water, of course. With a Mediterranean climate and countless hours of sunshine throughout the year, the options for water sports are endless—whether with oars or handlebars, the choice is yours. Sitges' marinas and urban beaches such as Les Anquines and La Fragata are meeting points for paddle surfing, kayaking, surfing and jet skiing.

Surfing in Sitges

It's true that the Mediterranean isn't known for big swell, and surfing can suffer as a result. But in Sitges, we have (almost) everything, including an ideal beach for surfing. That beach is Platja d'Aiguadolç, with beginner-friendly waves and a hollow right-hand break for more experienced surfers.

Kayaking in Sitges

Kayaking is always a great way to combine sport with nautical tourism. Because Sitges seen from the sea is spectacular, whether along its urban seafront or beside wild coves such as Platja de l'Home Mort or La Desenrocada. Here too, the beaches of Les Anquines, Aiguadolç and La Fragata offer kayak rental services.

Paddle surfing in Sitges

Although surfing in Sitges is limited by the usual lack of consistent waves, paddle surfing makes the most of the 'flatness' of the Mediterranean, perfect for enjoying the scenery and the ride itself. Here too, Les Anquines and La Fragata beaches offer rental services. Among the activities on offer is one that combines two disciplines which, surprisingly, go hand in hand: paddleboard yoga.

Jet skiing in Sitges

If high-speed adventure on jet skis is more your style, Sitges also offers plenty of opportunities to enjoy this exciting water sport. In this case, there are several companies that rent out jet skis in both Port de Sitges - Aiguadolç and Port Ginesta, as well as at Club Nàutic Garraf.

Details always make the difference. And in Sitges, living so closely connected to the Mediterranean means that almost everything can be enjoyed with sea views — including playing golf at such an iconic course as the Club de Golf Terramar. Here, it is not just a glimpse of blue in the distance. The sea is just 20 metres away. You can see it... and feel it. Sitges Golf Course, founded in 1927, is also the second oldest in Catalonia and the seventh oldest in Spain.

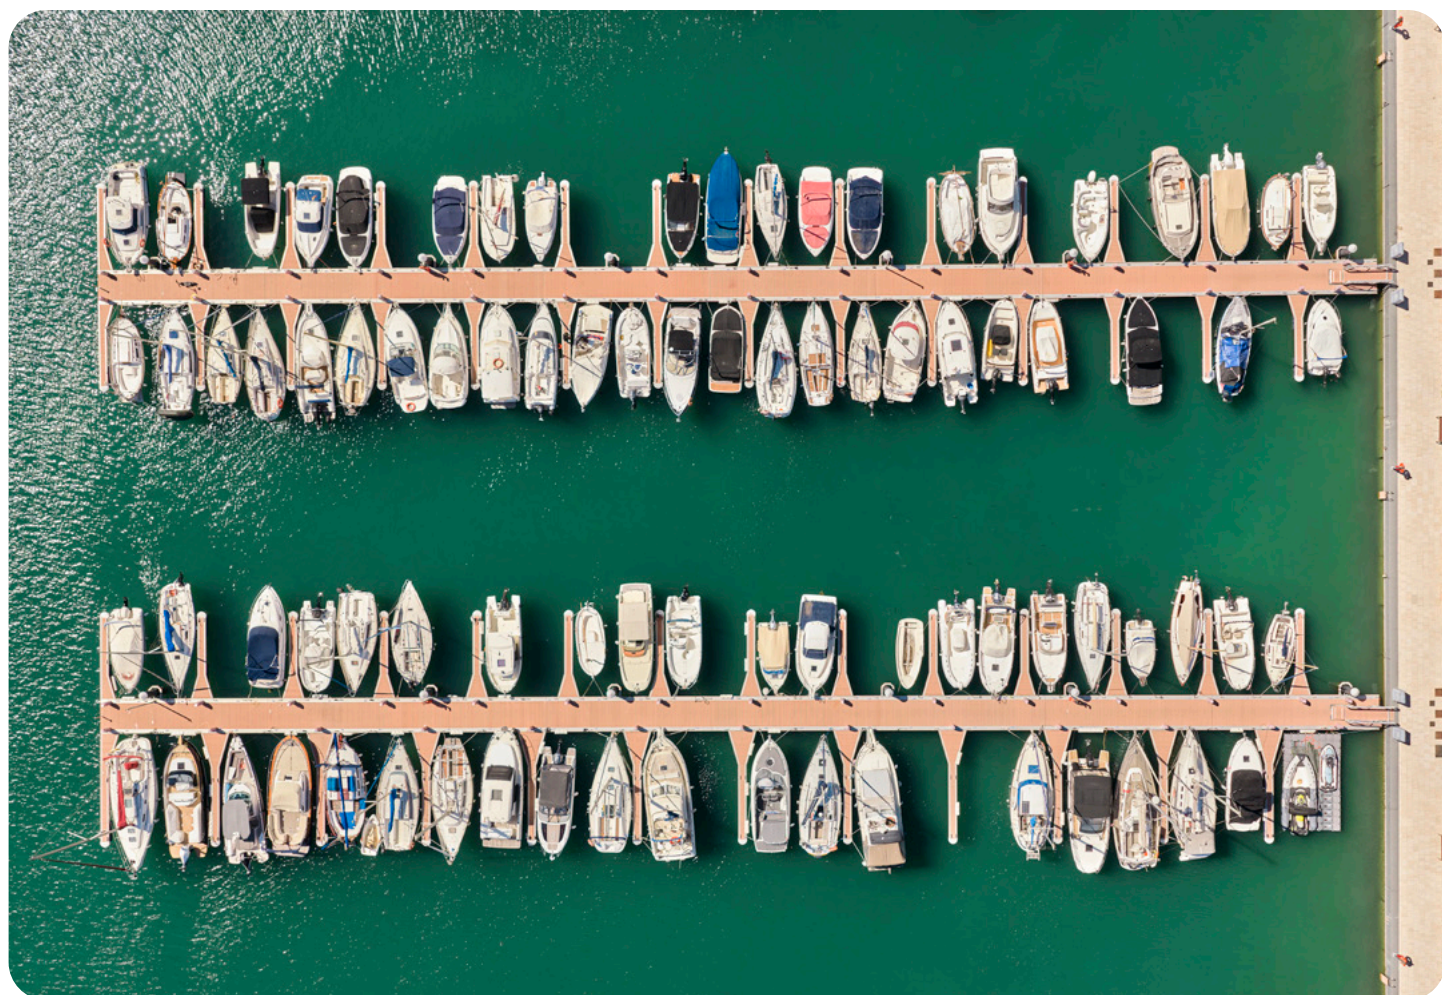

THE MAGIC OF HOLES 3 AND 4

The photographs speak for themselves and capture the setting perfectly. This is not simply about seeing the sea. It is about hearing it, smelling it... truly feeling it. This proximity is especially noticeable at holes 3 and 4, which – you really must try it – are played with a completely different mindset.

Nautical services and looooads of life

Sitges lives facing the sea. The town lives and breathes it, and enjoys it. And it shares it. That is why we have three marinas for mooring, renting boats, learning or surfing (or honing your skills), strolling, eating or going to concerts. Everything has a place in these hubs of nautical, sporting and social tourism in Sitges.

There are beautiful marinas. Some are large, others small. Historic. Lively or peaceful. Famous or discreet. And then there is Port de Sitges - Aiguadolç, with a truly unbeatable distinction: it is located right within the urban area, very close to Platja de Balmins (Balmins Beach) and less than a ten-minute walk from the old town. This proximity to the heart of Sitges also explains its character: a lively marina with a wide range of nautical activities, full of terraces, restaurants and spots to enjoy the sea through gastronomy. Here, the Mediterranean is not only admired from the quay; it is also savoured in a lively atmosphere that stretches from day into night.

A GREAT GASTRONOMIC SELECTION

Nautical sports, fishing village, social life and gastronomy

At Port de Sitges - Aiguadolç you will find some of the leading restaurants in Sitges and the surrounding area. Not just in summer, but all year round: good, varied food with a view. The marina is home to 15 restaurants offering Mediterranean, Italian, Japanese, French and signature cuisine, as well as other establishments where you can enjoy breakfasts, aperitifs, cocktails and tardeos (late-afternoon social drinks) throughout the year. Furthermore, behind the restaurants, the narrow white streets of a fishing village criss-cross; it is the only one of its kind located inside a marina on the entire Catalan coast and is inspired by those of the French Riviera.

SITGES BY BOAT

Sailing along the Sitges coastline

Sitges has a salty flavour, a blue colour and a soft, warm breeze all year round. Sitges is the sea and the Mediterranean. That's why one of the best ways to explore the town is by boat: it changes your perspective, and changes everything you feel. Furthermore, the range on offer is wide and varied, both for setting sail and for the before and after, of course... A boat also lets you explore wilder and more remote coves, such as Platja de l'Home Mort (Home Mort beach) or Cala Desenrocada, at one end, or Cala Morisca, at the other.

SAIL WITH OR WITHOUT A LICENCE

As we were saying, the range on offer is wide and varied. On the one hand, you can hire a boat with or without a skipper, as there are vessels that you can sail without a licence. And on the other, you can add more or fewer features to the experience: solo, in a group, with a crew, with meals included, half day, full day, on a sailing boat, on a catamaran... the only problem, as always in Sitges, is choosing.

The organisation was founded in 2017 by a group of parents with backgrounds in psychology.

This is considered an essential date on the classic sailing calendar in Catalonia and the Mediterranean.

CYCLING THROUGH VINEYARDS

📅 All year round — 📍 Various locations

Sitges can be enjoyed in many ways. But there is one that is very distinctive: by bike. The possibility of passing from the seafront promenade to the Parc del Garraf (Garraf Natural Park) in a single pedal stroke is a stroke of luck that we don't hide and love to share. There are countless routes, but we want to highlight an easy one that combines vineyards, wineries, castles and the sea in the background. It is a circular route of just over 20 kilometres and is completed in approximately two and a half hours (including stops).

FAMILY ROUTE TO THE ERMITA DE LA TRINITAT (TRINITAT CHAPEL)

Family-friendly and colourful hiking

📅 All year round — ⌚ 3 h — 🏔️ Low
📍 Mas Alba Industrial Estate, Sitges - ↔ 7 km

We suggest you set off on foot and discover a little gem that is still very much unknown to many visitors: the Ermita de la Trinitat (Trinitat Chapel). Located in the heart of the Parc del Garraf (Garraf Natural Park), with the sea in the background and whitewashed with Modernist details, this chapel is the perfect reward for one of the best family hiking routes in Sitges.

TWO POSSIBLE STARTING POINTS

There are two walking routes to the Ermita de la Trinitat (Trinitat Chapel). One from the La Llevantina development, with its ‘starting point’ at the so-called Sitges viewpoint at the highest part of the area, and following the GR92 (‘Camí de les Costes’). And another, the one we’re detailing, starting at the Mas Alba industrial estate in Sitges, from where a track sets off that you can walk along or (if going with young children) drive part of the way to the entrance of the Parc del Garraf (Garraf Natural Park) and, a little further on, in the area known as ‘Els Caçadors’ (The Hunters), where you can park the car. This second route, which also connects with the GR92, is flatter, and although you lose sea views in the first stretch, it is perfectly suitable for children of all ages.

THE ERMITA DE LA TRINITAT (TRINITAT CHAPEL), THE GREAT REWARD.

After just over an hour on the route – with spectacular stretches where you’ll have the sea at your feet – you should reach Punta de la Ferrosa, where you will find the Ermita de la Trinitat (Trinitat Chapel) crowning it. It is an ancient chapel, with documentary records dating back to 1375. With its traditional architecture and protected status as a Bien de Interés Local (Local Cultural Asset), this chapel is made all the more special by its surroundings. In fact, it is how children (and many adults) would draw a church: at the top of a mountain, small, white and with sea views. And to complete the picture, the entrance façade is clad in stone with arches, very organic and very Modernist. Very much so.

DISCOVERING SITGES' COVES BY KAYAK

Paddling between Sitges' coves

 All year round

 Platja de Les Anquines (Les Anquines beach)

The sea is like a carnival parade. It is always beautiful and exciting to see it from the outside. But from the inside... from the inside it's another thing altogether. And one way to experience it is with a kayak in Sitges, discovering unique, secluded and very special beaches. A 'great plan', indeed.

A SPECTACULAR ROUTE

'Calas de Sitges' (Sitges Coves). This is the name of the excursion we suggest. And the route delivers what it promises, as leaving from Platja de Les Anquines (Les Anquines Beach) in the direction of Vilanova, we pass some of the most beautiful beaches and coves in Sitges: Platja de l'Home Mort (Home Mort Beach), Platja Desenrocada (Desenrocada Beach) or Cala Xica. All of them, sandy coves dotted along a spectacular section of limestone cliffs known as 'Els Colls i Miralpeix', which forms part of the Natura 2000 Network. In this area you can also discover (and enter, sea conditions permitting) caves such as the Cova del Gegant (Giant's Cave) - named after the two parallel 'columns' that guard it - or the Cova del 'Bufador' (Blower Cave), named after the natural blowhole that the waves sometimes create.
